

Merrill chosen Washingtonian of the Year

Gallaudet President Edward C. Merrill, Jr. has been chosen by The Washingtonian magazine as a Washingtonian of the Year for 1982.

Merrill is among 18 individuals and one couple in the D.C. area who were chosen for the honor by the magazine.

According to a staff member at the Washingtonian, the persons chosen as Washingtonians of the Year represent a variety of fields and come from diverse geographical areas. The magazine began its yearly search for the Washingtonians by placing an advertisement in its September issue to get ideas from readers. They got hundreds of ideas, and the magazine also contacted many community leaders to get suggestions for possible nominees before they made their choice.

An interview with President Merrill and the other Washingtonians of the Year will appear in the January issue of Washingtonian, which should be on the newsstands before the end of this month.

Merrill, along with the others chosen, will also be honored at a dinner to be held Jan. 28 at the Sheraton Washington. Tickets are $30 per person, and anyone who is interested can attend the dinner. For more information about the dinner and to make reservations, contact Roz Garrity at 887-5500.

Work begins on new logo for Gallaudet

Work will soon get underway on a new institution-wide logo for Gallaudet College.

Artist Peter Tasi of Tetrad, Inc., who has wide experience in institutional logo development, has been commissioned to do the work. The project will begin Jan. 13, and it is hoped that the final design will be in print by next June.

The logo will be used to help Gallaudet establish an institutional identity, to help others see how the many programs and services offered here are all a part of Gallaudet College. Without this unifying logo, it could be easy for those not familiar with Gallaudet to view several programs such as the National Information Center on Deafness, National Academy and Center for Assessment and Demographic Studies, to name a few, as independent programs.

The logo will aim to reflect Gallaudet's mission without need for explanation and will try to encompass the total institution.

Development of the logo is being coordinated through the Office of Institutional Advancement with the advice of a Logo Advisory Board which will review the process and progress of the logo design. This board is comprised of representatives from each division at Gallaudet as well as the Student Body

D.C. Zoning Commission approves plans for Northwest Campus

The D.C. Zoning Commission, in a hearing Dec. 13, approved Gallaudet's plans for the renovation of the Northwest Campus.

It is hoped that the renovation of the campus, which will be used for Preparatory students next fall, can begin sometime in January.

Before construction can begin, the last step Gallaudet must take is to file for a covenant (showing that ownership of the campus by Gallaudet is in order) and a building permit with the D.C. government. Although this process could take as long as two months, the College is hoping that the permit can be received sooner than that.

During the Dec. 13 Zoning Commission hearing, it was decided that a seven-foot-high fence will be placed around the southern and southeastern borders between the campus and residential housing. The Zoning Commission, in an earlier hearing on Nov. 15, had approved all of Gallaudet's other plans for the campus but had postponed its decision on the issue of fencing.

poned its decision on the issue of fencing.

The College also obtained the approval of the National Capital Planning Commission earlier (Nov. 2) for its Planned Unit Development.

Although the Main Building on the Northwest Campus requires major work to modify it to meet the needs of the College, all buildings need to be made habitable and plumbing, electrical and painting work need to be done as well as landscaping. The Design and Construction Department at Gallaudet will be responsible for monitoring all contractors on the Northwest Campus.

OTG schedule

On the Green will not be published on Dec. 27 or Jan. 3 because of the Winter Break. The next issue will be Jan. 10, 1983. Happy Holidays.

Northwest Campus buildings will undergo renovation by next fall.

Early Education

The U.S. Department of Education has announced Feb. 11, 1983 as the deadline for applications to its Handicapped Children's Early Education Program (CFDA 84.024).

The purpose of this program is to support experimental demonstration activities which can provide innovative and effective means of serving pre-school handicapped children and their families and to develop models which others can use. The average grant is expected to be approximately $85,000.

For further information contact the Gallaudet Office of Sponsored Research or Jane Deweerd, Handicapped Children's Early Education Program, Special Education Programs, Department of Education, 400 Maryland Ave. SW, Room 4046, Donohoe Building, Washington, DC 20202, 245-9405.

Ornaments made from the base of the tree are presented to the Merrills each year.

Students attend International Fair

One hundred MSSD students and 15 chaperones eagerly sampled a variety of food from other countries at the YWCA International Fair held Dec. 10 at the Washington Hilton.

The Learning Resource Center at MSSD arranged the field trip in an effort to help students become more aware of other cultures.

Several embassies set up booths of food and gift items for sale at the fair. During the afternoon, a fashion show was the main attraction as embassy wives and daughters modeled costumes of their native countries while sharing information on their cultural background.

Kathy Stock volunteered to interpret the running commentary for MSSD students. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves and students are looking forward to next year's International Fair.

Persons in the Nigeria booth at the International Fair sold many items of clothing and carved wood.

NCI begins news service

The National Captioning Institute has begun to air a special Hearing Impaired News-Text Service (HINTS) which may be seen each weekday morning on ABC-TV. The service can be viewed on the local ABC channel during the time that "Good Morning America" is shown.

The new service is similar in format to the printed summary of general interest news. Approximately 10 minutes each morning will be given to items of particular interest to hearing impaired persons.

Depending upon input from consumers, the program may feature items pertaining to educational, legal, medical, legislative, civic, social and sports activities affecting the lives of hearing impaired persons. The success of the new service will depend on input from organizations and agencies serving deaf and hard of hearing citizens as well as from individuals throughout the nation.

Information of national interest can be mailed to HINTS, National Captioning Institute, 5203 Leesburg Pike—15th Floor, Falls Church, VA 22041. For further information call (703) 998-2423 or 998-2466, both voice or TDD.

Vice President for Institutional Advancement Barbara Harslem was the keynote speaker at a Dec. 8 workshop in Ely Center attended by counselors, professionals and other people connected with deafness. The workshop was held so participants could brainstorm ideas about how school and rehabilitation counselors, and the deaf women clients they serve, could change their attitudes, knowledge and behavior. Quoting Margaret Mead, who said that "Lack of success is emasculating for men, and achievement of success is defeminizing for women," Harslem emphasized the need for women to do networking and to be supportive of younger women. Suggestions from the conference will be compiled and used to help develop materials to be disseminated to both deaf women and counselors. The development of materials, through the Counseling Department, is being made possible through a grant from the Department of Education's Women's Educational Equity Act Program.

D.C. Chapter of GCAA raises funds for KDES families and Ole Jim

by Mike Kaika
D.C. Chapter president

The D.C. Chapter of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association which meets four times a year at the Alumni House (second Wednesday of October, December, February and April) held a party after its Dec. 8 meeting. This party was for the purpose of raising money for needy families of KDES children, and the Chapter raised $112. The D.C. Chapter has been taking up collections for the past several years for this purpose but this was the first year a party was held. About 50 Chapter members attended the party and although this was a good number the Chapter is aiming its sights for a much higher attendance at next year's party.

At the October meeting, the D.C. Chapter approved a notion to contribute $500 to the Alumni House Endowment Fund. The Chapter has contributed total of $8,531.09 to the Alumni House since the fundraising campaign began several years ago. The Chapter has some ideas on the back burner for possible fundraising events in which the proceeds will be contributed to the Endowment Fund.

The Chapter has approximately 120 members who have paid their dues (a meager $3 per year) but there are over 600 alumni in the metro area and there are over 100 alumni employed on Kendall Green who haven't joined the D.C. Chapter. So, fellow alumni, if you are still reading this paragraph, it is not too late to join. You can send your check (or cash) to me (Mike Kaika in the Alumni and Public Relations Office) and I will deliver it to our treasurer.

Immediately following the Feb. 8 meeting which starts at 8 p.m., the Chapter will show some old movies from the Archives. These movies were taken many many years ago of various campus functions and some are candid movies, too.

The members of the D.C. Chapter wish all of you a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Registration for vehicles changes here

Beginning Jan. 1, 1983, vehicle registration with the Department of Safety and Security will change. Actually, the procedure is changing back to the way it was in previous years.

After Jan. 1, the following information must be presented at the time of vehicle registration:

- Current, valid operator's permit.
- Proof of vehicle registration.
- Name of vehicle insurance company, policy number and policy expiration or renewal date.

There will no longer be a requirement to present a certificate or proof of insurance to register your vehicle.

Remember, if your vehicle is registered for the 1982-83 school year, your sticker is valid through Aug. 31, 1983.

If you have any questions, contact Bill Haig, chairman of the Parking and Traffic Committee, x5638 voice or TDD.

Christmas service to be captioned

The Christmas day service at the National Cathedral is tentatively scheduled to be closed captioned on NBC Television.

The Dec. 25 service will begin at 10 a.m. The Rev. John Walker, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington, will be presenting the sermon. Local NBC stations are Channel 2 and Channel 4, but if you're away from the area during the holidays, the broadcast will be nationwide.

Some of the funds to cover the cost of the closed captioning were raised by the St. Barnabas Mission for the Deaf.

Health Care Foundation needs volunteers

The National Health Care Foundation for the Deaf, which sponsors Otis House, CHHI House (Community Housing for the Hearing Impaired) and D.C. Deaf-Reach is in need of a variety of volunteers.

If you have some time or talent to share, there are many ways you can be of service. Organizations and senior citizens looking for a project are also invited to share.

At the present time, the organization needs people with skills in carpentry, floor refinishing, plumbing, painting, repairing and rug cleaning. They also need help with window washing, TDD repair, reupholstery, clerical work, typing, filing, writing and helping to edit the newsletter. People who want to share their hobbies, cooking, health and demonstrate exercise or dancing are welcome. The National Health Care Foundation for the Deaf is also available to provide speakers for meetings.

If you're interested in volunteering, call or stop by. Julia Mayes, the volunteer coordinator, is at Otis House on Thursdays from 1-4 p.m. The address is 1203 Otis St. NE and the phone is 832-6681 voice or TDD. Mayes can also be contacted at home, 587-5344 TDD.

Charter club of deaf women gets organized

Southern Prince George's Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc. would like to sponsor a charter club of deaf women. Professional and business women would have the opportunity for career expansion and professional growth through networking.

If you are interested in becoming a charter member or would like more information, contact Anna Paprocki, 13210 Whiteholm Dr., Upper Marlboro, MD, 20722. Call 249-6056 voice after 6 p.m. or to leave a message call Betsy Rogovsky at 277-2552 TDD.

Smithsonian holiday celebration to include interpreted activities

The Division of Performing Arts of the Smithsonian Institution will present a holiday celebration at the Museum of American History Dec. 26-31 featuring a variety of Christmas, Hanukkah and New Year's activities. The program will present some of the celebrations of the holiday season from colonial times to the present, giving special attention to colonial holiday activities.

A number of events on Sunday, Dec. 26 and Monday, Dec. 27 will be interpreted in sign language.

On Dec. 26, Sheila Grenell will interpret Storytelling with Songs from 12:30-1 (First Ladies' Hall, 2nd floor); Good Luck Goodies from 1:20-2 (lower level, near cafeteria); Colonial Holiday Decorations from 2:20-2:45 (We the People corridor, 2nd fl.); Jewish Paper Cutting from 3-3:20 (A Nation of Nations, 2nd fl.) and Dreidel Making from 3:40-4 p.m. (A Nation of Nations, 2nd fl.).

On Dec. 27, Hank Young will interpret Bayberry Candle Making from 12-12:30 (Glass, 3rd fl.); An 18th Century Gentleman from 1-2 (George Washington exhibit, 2nd fl.); American Carol Singing from 2:20-3 (Pendulum, 1st fl.); and Good Luck Goodies from 3:30-4 p.m. (lower level, near cafeteria).

An oral interpreter is also available upon advance request. For further information call 357-1696 TDD or 357-1697 voice.
